Dear Student and Family:

The Bursar’s Office would like to welcome returning students back to campus and provide early congratulations to the graduating class of 2020!

Our office is pleased to provide you with information to assist you with your financial transactions at Princeton University and is available to help you navigate through the various financial options regarding the payment of tuition and fees.

Important Change for Students: Princeton University will continue to issue email notifications to students at their Princeton.edu email address when their student account is ready for review and payment. However, starting in August students will be directed to the TigerHub site to view and pay their account; the same site used to manage academic affairs. By selecting the Student Financial Center link on the My Financials tile students will be directed to a new and improved view of their student account and related financial activity.

Important Change for Parents/Guardians: Starting in August, parents and/or guardians will access their student’s account from Princeton’s Tiger Family Hub website. If you are already using the Tiger Family Hub website, the link to your student’s account will be displayed on the site along with other useful information for families.

If you are not currently using the Tiger Family Hub and have not activated you Princeton Network ID (netID), an instructional communication will be sent to you by the Office of Information Technology. We encourage you to follow the steps in that notification if you wish to access your student’s account.

Please note that starting in August, both an active Princeton netID and the student’s delegation will be required for parents/guardians to view their student’s account. Your student can grant you access from the delegation tab on the main account page of the Student Financial Center. This step is required even if prior delegation was granted.

The new Student Financial Center will replace the TigerPay website currently used by students and families to view and pay the student’s account. The TigerPay website will continue to be available until July 15, 2019.

Academic Year 2019-2020 Tuition and Fees

- Tuition: $51,870
- Standard Room Charge: $10,090
- Standard Meal Contract: $7,060
- College Fee: $930
- Optional Student Health Plan: $1,900

Tuition and fees are charged on a semester basis. The fall semester charges are due August 25th and the spring semester charges are due January 25th.

Other charges include class dues and the student activity fee. For their convenience, students are permitted to charge incidental charges to their student account. These charges will be due on the 25th of each month. Notifications will be emailed monthly as reminders to check your account for new activity and to arrange for payment.
By completing the online Scholarship Information Form for Non-Aid Students, students who are not recipients of any financial aid from Princeton University can have anticipated grants or scholarship awards on their account to reduce the amount due. The form will be available from the main account page on the Student Financial Center prior to the start of each academic year. Financial Aid recipients will receive instructions from the Undergraduate Financial Aid Office.

Payment Options
Please review the options summarized below to determine which works best for your family:

- Pay the full amount of each semester when due. This semester payment plan is the default option. From the main account page on the Student Financial Center tile, you can send your payment electronically or print a remittance coupon and mail a paper check. International families can also make electronic payments in their home currency.

- Students can enroll in a Monthly Payment Plan. This plan allows families to spread tuition and fees (minus any financial aid or external scholarships) over 5 months in each term for a total of 10-monthly installments. There is an application fee of $40.00 per term which is payable with the first installment. The monthly installments and application fees are reflected on the student’s account. The online enrollment form is located on the main account page of the Student Financial Center. This option will be available prior to the start of each academic year. Please note that the current Monthly Payment Plan loan will no longer be offered. However, delegated parents/guardians can pay the installments on the student’s account.

- Parents can apply online for a Princeton Parent Loan. This loan program allows creditworthy applicants the option of spreading the cost of attendance over 14 years. Parents can select either a fixed or variable interest rate option, both at competitive rates. If you opt for the Princeton Parent Loan, the credit for each semester will be reflected on the student’s account and a separate billing statement will be issued for repayment. For additional information and to apply online, visit www.princeton.edu/parentloans.

Tuition Refund Plan
A private insurance program that supplements the University’s published refund policy is offered to Princeton students. A direct mailing about the Tuition Refund Plan (TRP) will be sent to your home by the firm administering the program during the month of August. Participation in the plan is completely optional and the University’s refund policy is applicable whether or not you enroll in the TRP. Information about the current year’s program can be found at http://finance.princeton.edu/tuitionrefundplan.

We wish you a most successful and enjoyable year and encourage you to visit the Student Financial Center in August. If you have any questions or need to discuss your payment options, please feel free to contact our office.

Sincerely,

Maria L. Bizzarri
