

Policy Title: Continuation of Pay during Unexpected or Extraordinary Circumstances

Effective Date: March 13, 2020

Responsible Offices: Dean of Faculty, Office of Human Resources, Graduate School, Princeton Plasma Physics Laboratory

The purpose of this policy is to address continuation of pay in accordance with regular schedule if non-exempt, or salary if exempt and benefits during an extraordinary situation affecting University operations.

The University reserves the right to continue paying employees and students during unexpected or extraordinary conditions affecting normal University operations. The application of this policy may vary as circumstances dictate.

For continuation of pay during COVID-19, please refer to 'Continuation of Pay during the COVID-19 Extraordinary Circumstance' found here.